What is CIMA?

The Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (CIMA) is perfect if you're looking to develop your accountancy skills to lead finance departments, or provide management accounting consultancy.

CIMA accounting qualifications are recognised around the world, and offer a wide range of job prospects in a multitude of industries. Once qualified, the average salary is around £65,000 a year.*

You'll learn a broad range of real-world accounting and finance skills, such as:

- Financial strategy
- Risk and control
- Business modelling
- Leadership and people management

The knowledge you take from these topics will help you progress into a management role and open up new career paths.

Why study CIMA?

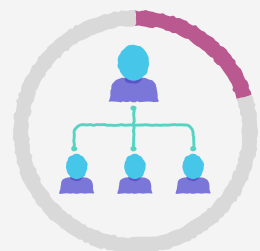

CIMA is a globally respected qualification, with over 100 years' experience as a leading professional accounting body. By earning a CIMA qualification, you can open doors in industries around the world.

70% of part qualified students say the CIMA qualification strengthens their position in salary negotiations*

91% of CIMA students and members agree that the CIMA qualification creates career opportunities*

One-fifth of qualified CIMA members are in very senior roles, earning in the region of £100,000 to £150,000 and upwards per annum
